

FOOD & BEVERAGE PROCESSING

WHAT NEWPORT NEWS BRINGS TO THE TABLE

The City of Newport News, Virginia, is where quality natural ingredients, innovative technologies and passionate people come together to produce delicious food and beverages.

As part of Virginia's $25.2 billion food and beverage industry, processors in Newport News enjoy an optimal location with easy access to some of the country's most populated metros via extensive highway and rail systems. With close proximity to world-class facilities at The Port of Virginia, reaching international markets and supply chains is just as easy.

When combined with a regional labor force of nearly 850,000 and a reasonable cost of doing business, Newport News provides all the ingredients a food processor needs to be successful.

A PORT PREPARED TO MOVE INGREDIENTS AND FINISHED FOODS

The Port of Virginia sails past others with superior service.

- 6 terminals accommodating break-bulk, roll-on/roll-off and container cargo
- Nearly 30 shipping lines with connections to 200+ countries
- USDA's Southeast In-Transit Cold Treatment Program for accepting imported perishable cargo
- Completing a $1.5 billion investment in modernization and improvements
- Channel dredging to 55 feet
- Channel widening for 2-way traffic

A WORKFORCE HUNGRY FOR OPPORTUNITIES

Newport News is an integral part of the Hampton Roads regional labor market.

- Civilian labor market of nearly 850,000
- More than 14,000 active-duty personnel transition out of the military yearly
- Over 100,000+ students in local universities, colleges and trade schools

A FAVORABLE BUSINESS CLIMATE

Newport News is a profitable place for business.

- 6% state corporate income tax – among the nation's lowest
- No inventory tax
- Access to Foreign Trade Zone to reduce, eliminate or delay U.S. Customs duties
- Right-to-work state following an "at-will" doctrine; regional union membership of only 3.3%

AN ECOSYSTEM OFFERING PROCESSORS EVERYTHING FROM INGREDIENTS TO PACKAGING AND WAREHOUSING

SEAFOOD INDUSTRIAL PARK

Chesapeake Bay and Atlantic Ocean access catches national attention for blue crabs, oysters and scallops.

- B&C Seafood
- Chesapeake Bay Packing
- Fernandez Fisheries
- South Bay Fish Mongers
- Wanchese Fish Company
